

The Orange Grove

Florida's K20 Digital Repository

---

The Orange Grove is asking for two hours of your time to make high quality digital resources available to Florida educators

The Orange Grove Digital Repository is a content management system serving all Florida educators across variety of learning management systems. The Repository enables Florida educators to acquire, contribute, store, manage, and share high-quality learning resources in one location. It also enables users to search multiple external sources with a single search query.

Our request

The Florida Distance Learning Consortium (FDLC), working with the National Repository of Online Courses (NROC), has added a large number of multimedia lessons to the repository. These resources are suitable for both distance and classroom students.

To increase the discoverability of resources and to relate them to Florida courses, we are soliciting reviewers to add descriptive information to the lessons, such as applicable FL Statewide Course Numbers, keywords, grade/age levels, and estimated learner completion time.

We estimate this effort will require approximately 2 - 3 hours of time by each reviewer.

Reviewer recognition

FDLC and its members highly value reviewers' donation of academic expertise and service to this effort. FDLC will send each reviewer a formal letter of thanks for their service to higher education. As a further token of appreciation, reviewers will receive a $20 Borders bookstore gift certificate.

Content areas

Content areas include the following NROC course titles:

Mathematics

- Statistics (for the Social Sciences)

Sciences

- Physics (Introductory and General)
- Environmental Science
- AP Biology

Social Sciences

- Psychology
- American Government
- US History

Suggested reviewer criteria

Reviewers should:

- Be an instructor or faculty member in the relevant subject area at an accredited higher education institution – OR
- Be an experienced library cataloguer with ability to classify academic content by relevant course numbers
- Hold an advanced degree in relevant subject area (Masters or PhD)
